“WHAT COLOR IS LOVE?”

Councilwoman Tara Wicker along with Councilman Trae Welch will make a special announcement at today’s Metropolitan Council meeting at 4:00 p.m., in the Council Chambers, Room 348, City Hall, 222 St. Louis Street, regarding the launching of the “What Color is Love?” Race Talk Initiative in partnership with the “One Blood” Baton Rouge Campaign. The focus of this campaign is to further establish an opportunity for open, transparent, and meaningful conversation about the issue of race in our city, the impact it has on our community as a whole, and put words into action in an effort to effect change. The “What Color is Love?” seminar will be held 6:30-9 p.m. Friday, Aug. 24, and 8 a.m.-1 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 24, at BRCC.

“The Community-Police Ambassadors accepted the ‘Challenge to Change’ last night at their monthly meeting, and tonight, council members, city staff, and citizens attending the council meeting will also have the opportunity to join the ‘One Blood’ movement of healing, hope, and love in our city,” said Councilwoman Tara Wicker.

Councilman Trae Welch stated, “It’s time to put words into action in our city. This initiative is about moving into action, the things we know and believe are true and good about the people of our city, and allowing real change to occur.”
