

What Color is Love? "One Blood" Race Talk

Join Councilwoman Tara Wicker, Councilman Trae Welch, the Community-Police Ambassadors, the Police Policy Advisory Council, and Community Stakeholders for the third session in a series of Conversations about Race.

This session, focusing on "Race and Religion," will be held on Tuesday, February 5, from 6:00 to 8:00 PM in the Resource Training Room at City Hall, Eighth Floor, Room 801, 222 St. Louis Street.

These events provide opportunities for open dialogue regarding race and race relations that are transparent and significant to improving how our community interacts with each other.

Councilwoman Tara Wicker said, "The more we get to know each other in a REAL, OPEN, and TRANSPARENT way, the closer we become to understanding each other as humans and not just through the lens of the color of our skin. These talks will allow us all to see that we are much more alike than we are different. There will be open, pointed, and deliberate discussions about issues that we normally only talk about behind closed doors."

Councilman Trae Welch said, "These are talks with a little different twist. We believe that exposure is one of the best educators, and these talks give us an opportunity to expose and educate in a meaningful and transformative way."
